Stevens 555 Over-Under Shotguns Available in 28-Gauge and .410

SUFFIELD, Connecticut. – August 8, 2016 – Stevens combines performance and value in its popular 555 series of over-under shotguns, which are available in 28-gauge and .410 bore options. Shipments of these shotguns are being delivered to dealers.

The 555 is nimble and fast-handling, with its scaled-to-gauge lightweight aluminum receiver. The receiver employs a steel insert that reinforces the breech to maximize strength while keeping weight down.

Standard features include a Turkish walnut stock and forend, shell extractors, a tang-mounted manual safety, a chrome-lined barrel, and a single, selective, mechanical trigger. The shotgun also includes 5 interchangeable choke tubes. Finally, it has a price that is unmatched among comparable over-under shotguns.
