Federal's Derrick Mein Concludes 2025 NSCA Season on the Medal Stand

ANOKA, Minnesota – October 28, 2025 – Federal Ammunition congratulates Derrick Mein on his Main Event success at the 2025 NSCA Sporting Clays National Championships. Mein, a two-time Olympian in Men's Trap, finished the Sporting Clays Main Event in the Runner-Up position.

The championships were held from October 18 to October 26, 2025, at the National Shooting Complex in San Antonio, Texas, with more than 1970 shooters vying for the Main Event championship. In all, 2,573 shooters competed at this year's National Sporting Clays Championships.

"We congratulate Derrick Mein on his performance at this year's NSCA Sporting Clays Nationals," says Jason Nash, Vice President of Marketing for Federal. "Derrick is a fierce competitor and an outstanding ambassador for Team Federal whether he is shooting Men's Trap on the world stage or at a NSCA Regional or National competition," continued Nash.

In the Senior Super Veteran category, Team Federal's Gary Greenway bested a field of 104 shooters to win the High Over All. Greenway also captured the Senior Super Veteran Super Sporting event title during the championships.

Mein loads his shotgun with Federal's Gold Medal Paper shotshells when competing at NSCA events. With an exclusive paper hull design, high-antimony lead shot, and a two-piece wad that delivers more uniform patterns, Mein, like others, trusts in the gold standard set by Federal's Gold Medal Paper shotshells.
