Remington's Core-Lokt Now Shipping in 400 Legend

LONOKE, Ark. – October 17, 2025 – Remington Ammunition announces the expansion of its trusted Core-Lokt rifle ammunition line with the addition of the 400 Legend cartridge. This cartridge provides more energy and penetration than the .350 Legend and is similar to a .450 Bushmaster, but with less recoil. The new Remington load is now being delivered to dealers nationwide, providing all the proven performance that the time-tested Core-Lokt bullet is known for.

"Generations of hunters have trusted the Core-Lokt line for one reason—it works," said, Jon Langenfield, Product Engineering Director at Remington Ammunition. "We're excited to offer Core-Lokt in 400 Legend. This is a cartridge that continues to grow in popularity thanks to its straight-wall and intermediate capabilities in the field."

Known as The Deadliest Mushroom in the Woods, Core-Lokt is the original controlled expansion bullet. Its tapered copper jacket is mechanically locked to a solid lead core, delivering deep penetration and consistent weight retention. These new chamberings expand the versatility of the Core-Lokt family, giving hunters trusted performance in more platforms than ever before.
